Educating for Tomorrow: Ukrainian Values in a Global World

Third International Conference · A CIRCLE+ Conference · One Room. Every Voice.

Friday, November 20, 2026 (Saturday, November 21 is added if needed, based on the abstracts submitted)

Online via Zoom · 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Pacific Time (5:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Kyiv, 3:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. GMT)

Free and open access · Hosted by Thompson Rivers University, Kamloops, Canada

About the conference

The conference asks how Ukrainian values such as dignity, freedom, solidarity, care for community and respect for memory shape education, practice, policy and community life in Ukraine and around the world. It is the third conference in this track of the Educating for Tomorrow conference series, following the conferences held in February 2025 and October 2025.

We warmly encourage you not only to submit an abstract but also to present it. Every accepted abstract receives a Certificate of Abstract Acceptance, and every presenter also receives a Certificate of Paper Presentation.

Who can take part

Scholars, educators, students, practitioners, community leaders and members of the Ukrainian diaspora, together with everyone who stands with Ukraine. Abstracts are welcome in English or Ukrainian.

Conference themes

1. Ukrainian Identity in the Context of Globalization
2. Ukraine-Diaspora Cooperation

3. Civil Society Development and Social Innovation
4. Future Challenges: War, Sustainability, and Technological Change
5. Inclusion, Belonging, and Intergenerational Justice

How you can take part

Each conference day opens with keynote presentations, followed by presentations in the 360 Format: six minutes (360 seconds) per presenter, with one slide.

- Live 360 presentation: present for six minutes with one slide on Zoom.
- Recorded 360 presentation: send a link to a six-minute recording of you speaking about your slide, together with your abstract. Links are shared in the conference programme, and authors of recorded presentations join the Zoom Toloka (from the Ukrainian toloka, a gathering where the community comes together to help and work side by side), a session where they answer questions from the audience and share their research.
- Abstract only: the abstract is published in the conference proceedings.

We encourage everyone to send a recording link with the abstract. If an accepted abstract cannot be fit into the live programme, we will invite the author to send a link and join the Zoom Toloka.
